James Whiter, the Name of the Man Assaulted and Robbed. The man who complained to the polic Tuesday evening of having been badly ed up had good cause for his complaint. He was not only badly used up but should sell excursion tickets to San Francisco and be thankful that he escaped with his life as Martin, son of the efficient policeman, was passing down Park avenue and heard a int shout. The lad paused an instant and called out to Steve Carpenter, who was on the opposite side of the street and crossed over. They were speaking to each other when another shout was heard as coming from some one in misery. Young Martin said he was going to see what was the trouble; he led the way and Carpenter followed. There in the placer diggings was a man lying on his side, his face against the ground and completely exhausted. His feet were tied with a rope; over his mouth was a piece of board which was held there by a rope passing back of his head, while in his mouth was a wad of paper; his hands were mouth was a was of paper; his hands were bound behind his back, and his wrists and legs were lacerated where the ropes had been tightly drawn. "For God's sake relegs were lacerated where been tightly drawn. "For God's sake release me," the poor fellow called out to the boys. Morton whipped out his pocket knife and severed the cords. The man was unable to rise; his trousers were ripped around the waist by a knife. Carpenter sent Morton after an officer, and soon the young man was conveyed to the police station in a back.

BRETHREN NOT UNITED.

York, Pa.-The Baptists. YORK, Pa., May 15 .- Bishop Weaver pre sided over the majority conference of the United Brethern church to-day. The question of licensing women to preach was adopted, after a long discussion. A motion was also adopted that no minister should be allowed to preach more than three con-secutive years at one point without consent of the conference.

At a meeting of visiting ministers and laymen to the United Brethren general conference, held in the afternoon, resolutions were adopted expressing hearty approval of the action of the general conference in ratifying the work of the church commission appointed by the last general conference, thus bringing into force the revised confession of faith and the amended constitution of the church, and protesting against the use of the church name by the seceders.

The minority conference was presided over by Bishop Wright. It was agreed that four bishops should be elected, one for the Pacific coast and three for the east. It was recommended to call a congress of Christian churches in the fall in some large city to urge a war against secret societies. Baptist Celebration. Boston, May 15 .- The celebration of the eventy-fifth anniversary of the American Baptist Missionary Union began to-day. This is the foreign missions organization of Baptists of the northern states, having a constituency of 700,000 church members a constituency of 700,000 church members. Its missions are in Burmah, India, Siam, China. Asia, Japan, in the Congo valley, west Africa and eight countries of Europe. In the number of churches and church members in its mission churches the Baptist society is the largest missionary society in the world. There was a large attendance this morning, including many prominent clergymen and laymen from various parts of the country. The session was occupied by addresses and papers and the annual report of the home secretary. The reports read show the total appropriation for the year was $428,318; total receipts, $415,144; balance against the treasury, $8,174. The foreign secretary's report shows in all the missions there are 272 missionaries, 1.316 churches and 134,413 members, an increase of seventeen missionaries, twenty churches and 7,205 members.
